The luckiest among us are able to recognize the magical moments that occur while we live. They can happen in certain circumstances, simple or complex, and give the sensation of living a dream. A small space manifests in which time makes us spectators captivated by this poetry... thus, beauty occurs. Dream Like is the small representation of one of those moments.

With a bold aesthetic that bridges past and future, Seletti presents Supercurve, designed by the collective group Hello Again. The collection's standout pieces are sculptural mirrors, framed by a sinuous border that glows with soft pink LED light. More than a reflective surface, it becomes an atmospheric element, shaping space with its luminous presence. A fusion of nostalgia and innovation, this mirror reinterprets iconic design codes with a contemporary twist, adding character and warmth to any interior.

Vitamin is the new colourful lighting project by Marcantonio. The long-lasting understanding between Seletti and the artist-designer is consolidated with a new collection of abat-jours, candelabra, chandeliers and candleholders, in which unexpected protagonists are tasty vegetables and fresh fruit. Marcantonio continues to experiment with images from the natural world, and now interprets fruit and vegetables in a unique and original way.

Families assembled home after a day of work school. Slowly (each at a time) they turned on their lights. In a childlike way I thought of clicking the lights on myself by pushing in the dormer-windows across the street. In the design ON-OFF I have translated this sentiment in the most concise way by using the dormer-window as a switch. I want to seduce the visitor to (re-) think common situations.

The dripping candle is the romantic icon of fairy-tales, Florence Nightingale, ghost stories and the seven dwarves. "Everyone has their own childhood memory of a candleholder and mine is the Dutch painter Anton Pieck." explains Job Smeets. This classic theatrical style candleholder has been an icon of Studio Jobs work for fifteen years and now we re-make it with an electric dripping candle.

The image creates a disorienting shift in both space and time, as well as an unexpected and interesting cultural contrast. I consider the act of blowing a bubble gum as something revolutionary and irreverent in a certain sense. Let's say it's not exactly a sign of good manners, but at the same time, it represents the lightheartedness of those who daydream, who love to be amazed and fantasize, of those who are young and free, and this is a beautiful image that we should always keep in mind."

The Lady Diver lamp is inspired by the famous tattoo of the 1940s diver. The tattoo, which has always been a two-dimensional decoration, now becomes a three-dimensional object. From the combination of the designer's professional and educational background comes an interesting lamp that combines timeless aesthetics and everyday functionality for a product with a highly visual and functional character.
